

ABOUT FRAME

The Advantage of Clarity

Frame is a technology services company.

We work as your trusted adviser, using a proven lifecycle approach that is customised to solving your business issues with technology solutions.

Our core capabilities are:

- data centres
- unified communications
- information solutions
- business process consulting.

From vision to implementation and operation, we tailor our services to your needs. We deliver your solution using our proven project management expertise—an approach anchored in leadership and communication.

We focus on achieving a successful outcome for you, keeping you informed and delivering to your time, cost and quality criteria. We ensure effective resource planning and task scheduling, and accept responsibility for cost and risk management.

Our client portfolio covers a wide range of government and commercial organisations, so you benefit from the knowledge and expertise gained from varied assignments across diverse industries.

The entire resources of Frame contribute to the solution that will ensure the ongoing success of your business.

Data centres

Frame translates your business needs into strategic requirements to assist you in designing, relocating, constructing or reshaping your data centre. Frame provides integrated design, project management and IT consulting expertise enabling you to exploit the rapidly evolving solutions available within the data centre marketplace.

Unified communications

Frame develops customised, unified communications solutions that help you maximise the benefits of converged technologies. Frame delivers the infrastructure strategy and solution that transports your business information, ensuring the right information is available ... anytime, anywhere.

Information solutions

Frame transforms the way that you access, interact and exploit your data by turning it into information. We implement solutions that put your data into context and allow your users to access any content, from anywhere, using any device.

Business process consulting

Frame analyses, designs and implements business processes that deliver for you and your customers. We help you to optimise your processes and to develop integrated strategies and solutions for improved business performance and returns.

Listening ensures clarity

We listen to you, assist you in developing best-fit strategies to address your needs, and provide the necessary support to achieve your desired business outcomes.

We have the planning, analysis, design, implementation, deployment and operations management experience to ensure that your technology and your business are aligned.

Collaborating maintains clarity

Frame's team works in close partnership with you—an approach that assures you of an appropriate, dependable and lasting outcome.

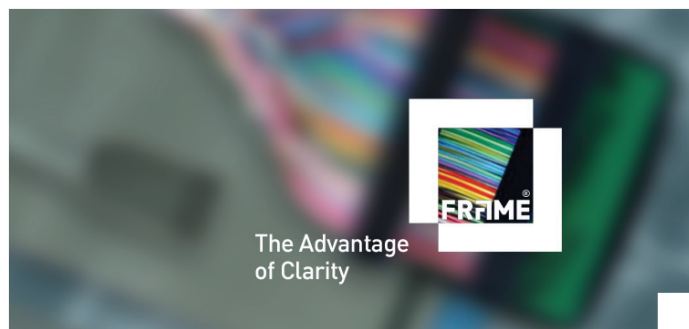

You receive consistent quality and service with our repeatable engagement model, quality endorsed processes, and use of industry standards.

Clarity focuses you on success

At Frame, we bring clarity to all aspects of the services and solutions that we provide.

Clarity places you in control of your business environment because it simplifies your options and focuses on your real needs.

This enables you to make informed decisions, explore better-value alternatives, and concentrate on outcomes of best business value.
